GREYSTONE'S 90TH ANNIVERSARY

In 1936, electric pioneers went door to door signing up members for a new concept, "the electric," — bringing a new way of life that had only existed in their dreams. Investor-owned utilities could not be persuaded to serve the sparsely populated west side of Atlanta; there were not enough profits for their stockholders.

It was up to the people residing in the area to make it happen, and it all started on Aug. 24, 1936, when a group of determined local people met in Douglasville, formed the Farmers Electrical Association, applied for a Rural Electrification Administration loan, and set out to build 83 miles of power lines. We're thankful for those early co-op pioneers who made life better for our members!

As we celebrate 90 years of service this year, we remember when the newly formed co-op brought life-changing electricity to many for the first time. In that same spirit, we are now providing high-speed broadband to members in our service area who are unserved or underserved. Our broadband subsidiary, GreyStone Connect, continues our mission of making life better in the communities we serve.

Today, after two name changes, the first to Douglas County Electric Membership Corporation and the second to GreyStone Power Corporation, we serve more than 157,000 meters over 7,800 miles of line. The cooperative's service to its members has expanded through other partnerships over the years, including with Go Energy Credit Union, home and business security with EMC Security and natural gas discounts through Gas South.
