NEW HEADQUARTERS

After years of forward thinking and planning, GreyStone Power is set to move our headquarters to Paulding County. Your electric cooperative was able to build the new headquarters without incurring any new debt.

The move will set GreyStone at the geographic center of our service area, which will help us serve our membership more efficiently.

We will begin moving departments to the new Paulding headquarters in mid-December, with an expected opening in early 2021.

The campus-style headquarters features a 99,000-square-foot main office, 40,500-square-foot operations and engineering building, the 50,000-square-foot warehouse and the 43,000-square-foot vehicle maintenance and metering shop. Visit greystonepower.com/newhq to view the latest images.

GreyStone's current headquarters will not sit empty. The co-op has reached a deal to sell the building to the Douglas County School System. The Board of Education agreed to purchase the building for $12.5 million via a 15-year lease-purchase.

"It was clear the school system, with the buses, the shop, the things that they need, that this was an absolute perfect fit," GreyStone President/CEO Gary Miller says. "And we've been very good corporate citizens, I think, in Douglas County. We did have a sincere desire to see that who succeeded us in that building would be a positive influence on the county. And the school system is certainly that. It's something we are extremely excited about."
